WELCOME!

Get ready to feel, connect, and discover the extraordinary in every performance!

Pause & Play is a festival where creativity takes centre stage!

Allow yourself to dive into the magic of the performing arts where artists let their imaginations run wild, and audiences get to explore, connect, and play in whatever way feels just right. From quiet reflections to moments of pure joy, we're here to celebrate how art brings us closer to ourselves and to each other.

This is a festival about celebrating play and creativity.

This is a festival to pause and reflect, play and connect.

EXTERNAL PERFORMANCES

External performances take place outside the main festival hub at the University of Malta Valletta Campus.

GETTING TO THE FESTIVAL

With sustainability in mind, we strongly recommend the use of public transport, getting a taxi or carpooling to get to our festival.

BY BUS

Most buses in Malta travel to Valletta. For bus times and nearby stops, visit the Malta Public Transport website or download the Tallinja app.

BY FERRY

You can take the ferry from The Strand in Sliema to Valletta and then to the Three Cities (Vittoriosa, Senglea, and Cospicua). The service operates daily from early morning to late at night. For details and ferry times, visit the Valletta Ferry Services website.

BY TAXI

Taxis in Malta are easy to book through providers like Bolt, Uber, and eCabs, along with available white cabs. Pricing varies, so it's advisable to check their websites or download their apps for booking.

GETTING TO THE FESTIVAL

BY CAR

While we encourage more sustainable uses of getting to the festival, Valletta offers numerous parking spots (subject to a CVA charge) and a car park (MCP Car Park) can be located just outside of Valletta's main gates in Floriana. If you choose to park in the car park, Valletta Campus (and other external venues) is easily accessible by foot and should only take you 15 minutes to get there.

FESTIVAL TEAM

Brendon, Monique, and Angelique, three final-year Bachelor in Theatre (Honours) students at the University of Malta, are the festival team behind Pause & Play.

As part of their final project, they aim to create a space for reflection and connection, celebrating creativity among people and young artists.

FESTIVAL TEAM

ANGELIQUE ATTARD

From a very young age, Angelique has always been drawn to the performing arts, as she pursued tap dance and jazz for seven years. However, theatre and acting stole the spotlight and she decided to enrol herself for the Bachelor in Theatre (Honours) degree at the School of Performing Arts within the University of Malta. Since then, she's thrown herself into all sorts of productions, exploring new roles beyond acting — from stage management to light and sound design. Every experience has been a chance to learn, grow, and expand her skills both on and off the stage.

FESTIVAL TEAM

BRENDON THEARLE

Brendon entered the world of theatre at the age of five and since then has performed in various productions such as; Gary in MADC's A Kick in the Baubles (2022), as Jeremy in Hassle Mejjet Theatre Collective's Popolazzjoni: 4 (2023), as Dame Widow Twankey in Teatru Manoel's Learning & Participation Programme: TOI TOI's The Great Little Panto Show (2023, 2024), and in MADC's The Coarse Acting Show (2025), among many others. He has also delved into the directorial seat with such projects as The Fourth Wall (2022) for MADC's One Act Play Festival and most recently; Nostrum (2023).

FESTIVAL TEAM

MONIQUE
ALEXANDRA FALZON

Monique Alexandra Falzon has always shown a great appreciation for theatre since she was a child. Her interest peaked in secondary school when she started getting involved in her school's musical productions, from playing Cinderella's Fairy Godmother in Nugrufella, to Mr. Warbucks in Annie. Monique fell in love with the atmosphere and sense of belonging that is brought on by being on stage and from then on, decided to pursue a career in theatre. She is currently in her final year studying for a Bachelor in Theatre Studies (Honors) at the School of Performing at the University of Malta, where she wishes to continue exploring different theatrical styles and learn more about what theatre is.

MAY CONTAIN STRONG LANGUAGE

I Promised I'd Tell You a Story but I'd Rather Play the Fool is a hybrid performance-workshop by Alex Weenink; an interactive experiment exploring anxiety, playfulness, and storytelling. Through a combination of spoken word and collective creative activities, Alex will guide audience-participants through a personal journey of creativity and authenticity. This performance is an invitation to all to gather in circles, share stories, and play the fool.

WHEN GOOD ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

BY CHARLENE GALEA

When Good Enough is Enough is a research-based performance examining personal history, creative industry expectations, and standardised learning limitations. The performance critiques society's narrow definition of 'good enough' and celebrates perceived failures as alternative ways of being and doing.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE DEAF & HOORAY, OUR WORLD IS ENDING

BY D SHOWS

D Shows presents two performances in one sitting!

The Language of the Deaf addresses themes of greed, societal taboos, and the impact of silence and fear of words. It challenges societal clichés and subconscious patterns, provoking thought and questioning conventional paradigms.

Hooray, Our World is Ending, and to whatever comes after. This performance piece, set in a bar, dives into the sentiment of being paralysed by frustration. The grumpy regular ranting about the world, while drinking through another night of forgetting. "My mind is in: Palestine, Congo, Ethiopia, Sudan. It's on one of the boats that might arrive at our shores tomorrow. Or yesterday? and I haven't even kept up with the news to carry this knowledge like a burden." But how can we do something about it?

THEN AND NOW

1 HOUR

Which news items catch our attention? How do we deal with them? Using the dramatised, Living Newspaper model, Theatre Studies Year 1 students are excited to 'pause and play' by sharing a programme of five short performances on a variety of themes: power, security, status, loss, and empathy... their causes then, but also their effects now. How real are our stories? Do they mix with abstract ideas or dreams? Come and find out!

DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE STUDIES

The Department of Theatre Studies at the University of Malta has been a central hub for theatre education since welcoming its first students in 1988. It remains until today the leading institution for tertiary-level theatre education in Malta, offering a dynamic space where theatre, performance, and critical thinking come together.

Educational Approach

Programmes offered by the department explore theatre as a living and evolving practice deeply connected to the world around it. Courses examine how performance responds to social and political change, how spaces shape experiences, and how the role of the performer continues to develop.

Inspired by current trends in Performance Studies, the Department looks at the roots of theatre practice in religious, political, and cultural traditions, while also embracing the future through contemporary theory and digital media.

Interdisciplinary Focus

Added to this is the approach adopted by the academic staff whereby theatre is never considered in isolation but always in dialogue with music, dance, philosophy, and other theoretical and practical contexts. This makes the Department's approach strongly interdisciplinary, encouraging openness to a wide range of influences and practices.

DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE STUDIES

Career Development

With a balance of critical inquiry and hands-on experience, students are equipped with the necessary tools to be employable and work confidently within the broader cultural and creative sectors.

Study Options

The Department offers undergraduate and postgraduate study options, including a Bachelor of Arts (General or Honours), a Bachelor of Theatre (Honours), Masters degrees (both taught and research-based), and doctoral programmes.

Student Community

Students at the Department of Theatre Studies come from diverse backgrounds and nationalities – some new to theatre, others with years of experience – creating a vibrant, collaborative learning environment that reflects the diversity of contemporary performance cultures.
